Dear All ,

Medical Surgical Nursing and Community Health Nursing Departments are organising two Community extension activities on hand hygiene and Respiratory etiquettes on 22 Oct 2020.

FFA the brochure for the event.

BSc 1st Year, MSc 1st Year and PBRSc 1st Year student class coordinators should motivate the students to bring at least 3 relatives for these programs .

This will be online through zoom.

The students who will bring maximum participants will get smart volunteer certificate

Also there is poster competition on the topic Prevention of infection .

The students need to prepare a cartoon depicting a message on prevention of infection and same to be submitted by 21 Oct to the concerned person.

All first year teachers should motivate the students to participate along with the relatives

Promoting good hand hygiene is one of the most basic yet powerful tools that Member States of the WHO South-East Asia Region must continue to leverage to reduce the spread of COVID-19. All Member States should urgently provide universal access to public hand hygiene stations as they embark on the next phase of the pandemic response, including at the entrance to every public or private commercial building and at all transport locations, especially major bus and train stations, airports and seaports. Regular and thorough hand-washing with soap or use of an alcohol-based rub are critical measures each of us can take to protect ourselves, each other and those who care for us: health workers.

As the world marks the annual WHO "SAVE LIVES: Clean Your Hands" campaign on 5 May, which is also the International Day of the Midwife, it is imperative that Member States continue to enhance hand
