5.Would you recommend any new course / topic to be added in the program structure?

No, as the curriculum suffices the requirement in all aspects, and addition of new course or topic will warrant to increase in hours which will not be feasible with the current load of curriculum. However, we can have optional courses that a student can choose over an above with his current study and that are not compulsory. Example: Basics of Biomedical Engineering - just to understand how machines work and are handled.
